ABOUT ME

I'm a 24-year-old Software Engineer, 3D Artist and Game Designer passionate about videogames, narrative design, and world building.

I strive to have my work rooted in a commitment to bringing African stories to life through games, animation, and digital media preserving, re-imagining, and sharing the rich cultural heritage of my motherland.

FROM BLOOD CAME RAIN 1

3D ARTIST & PRODUCER

This was a solo short animation passion project I worked to showcase the mythical lore of one of the gods in my country, “Mbona”, the rain deity. It was initially a poem I made for an Cultural preservation program I was in by Utawaleza then I decided it was better for the audience to see it move.

The whole production was made by me with some help from family.

ANANSI BOARD GAME 2

Game designer (Play mechanics & Graphical /UI design of the game)

This was a collaborative effort. While working as a creative associate at Zaluso Creative Hub, with my coworker a resource mobilization associate.

Anansi is a prompt based board game that aims to make it players open up about their mental health in their relationships: Friends, Family and Romance.
